

Eco-friendly Machines

Students at the Chai Wan campus of the French International School of Hong Kong (FIS) have been participating in a fantastic science and technology project to highlight the power of inquiry-based learning and teamwork. In collaboration with MakerBay, they created five different machines with environmental implications, from beach cleaners to wind turbines. The results went on display at Chai Wan in June.

